

HUDSON ADIRONDACK DAYLILY SOCIETY

We are a non-profit educational organization. The goal of HADS is to promote knowledge and interest in growing genus Hemerocallis. We are an organization of well over one hundred members who travel from across New York and neighboring states to share their diverse interests and varied botanical skills. We meet during the growing season to share ideas and experiences, to encourage beginners and to support members as they venture into new areas of growing, propagating and hybridizing Daylilies. A friendly atmosphere and guest speakers make for lively discussions about gardening in general and Daylily related activities. Plant sales, both public and member-only, help to offset club expenses. The member sales and auction provide members the opportunity to acquire new, unique and exotic plants to showcase their gardens. Many of the more expensive varieties can often be obtained at below retail. We also offer plant babysitting of brand new varieties resulting in the babysitter person receiving a plant when the mother plant is big enough.

We are currently charging a $5.00 fee per year for membership dues, which includes the UPDATE, our newsletter which is e-mailed monthly.

Membership benefits: Plant sales, newsletter, summer member garden tours, meeting door prizes.
